Small Farm Conference at Wilmington College

“Across Ohio, there are an increasing number of residents who are purchasing small acreage,” said Tony Nye, an OSU Extension educator who coordinates OSU Extension’s Small Farm Program. “Conferences such as this help provide landowners necessary information to help grow their small farm business.”

Researchers and educators with OSU Extension and the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, as well as industry experts, will conduct the conference sessions. OSU Extension and OARDC are the outreach and research arms, respectively, of the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences at The Ohio State University.

The “Opening Doors to Success” Conference is March 10-11 at Wilmington College, 1870 Quaker Way in Wilmington. The March 10 session is from 1-5:30 p.m. with a workshop on Poultry Production, held at the Wilmington College Academic Farm, 1590 Fife Ave., in Wilmington; and a workshop on Beekeeping for the Beginner, held at the Wilmington College Kelly Center, on College Street, in Wilmington.

The March 11 session is from 7:45 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. at the Center for Science and Agriculture, 340 College Street, in Wilmington. Topics for the day will include: applying chemicals, greenhouse production, livestock, field crops, finances, and farm and land access.

Registration for the “Opening Doors to Success” conference is $20 for Friday; $60 for Saturday only; or $70 for Friday and Saturday. Register at go.osu.edu/BpkQ no later than March 3. Students are offered a discounted rate.

Agriculture is Everyone's Business

Five years ago this event kicked off in Hillsboro and I had several people tell me it happened and they didn't know about it. They wanted to meet and hear the featured speaker at this first time event. Well if that is you, and you missed it you have a second chance.

On Friday, March 3rd, Orion Samuelson will join us for his second "Ag is Everyone's Business." The format for this year's event will be a Q&A with Orion and Director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, David Daniels. The event will begin at 8:00 a.m. at the Patriot Center on the campus of Southern State Community College in Hillsboro. Tickets are required and available by contacting the Highland Co. Chamber of Commerce online at: <http://thehighlandchamber.com> or by phone at (937) 393-1111.

There will be door prizes and events going on with the trade show, plus sessions on a number of topics including, but not limited to: Soil Health, Sheep and Goat Production, Bee Keeping, Quality Hay, Marketing Livestock, Nutrition of Cattle Coming out of Winter, Backyard Poultry, Lawn Management, Food Plots for Wildlife, Rain Gardens, Healthy Appetizers, Making Your Own Soup and Sauces, Crockpot Meals, and youth activities.
